Where Will You Be For The Holidays?

Focusing his attention on automobile safety as the Trumpet kicks off its Highway Safety Campaign, Dean of Students Earnest F. Oppermann says, "We hope and pray that all will return safely at the end of the vacation period."

Weather forecast for the beginning of the week indicates one-tenth of an inch of snow. Driving conditions Wednesday should be nearly perfect in this area, according to information given by Waverly radio station KWVY.

Wartburg To Eat Forbidden Fruit

The Federal Government can't alter the Wartburg cafeteria plans.

Cranberries, the uncontaminated variety, are on the Tuesday menu, according to Mrs. Henry Grube, cafeteria manager. The Wartburg berries are approved refugees from thousands of cases jettisoned because of chemical contamination.

In addition to cranberries, Wartburgers will feast on turkey Tuesday. In honor of the occasion, Pi Sigma is decorating the cafeteria.

Choristers Back Mon.

Absent from the campus for the past two weeks, Dr. Edwin Liemohn, director, and his 60-voice Wartburg Choir return tomorrow.

Leaving by bus on Friday, Nov. 6, the choir's whereabouts has varied from Fargo, N.D., to Menomonie, Wis. Also included in the tour were concerts in such cities as Manson, Canton, S. D.; Hecla, S. D.; and a few towns in Minnesota.

This tour, however, as with all good things, will terminate. The familiar faces of the Choir members will be seen again on campus late tomorrow afternoon. With the faces will also come tales of humor, adventure and inspiration.

Gies For Convo Tues.

"Thanksgiving, Another Look to God" will be the topic of Tuesday's convocation. Speaker will be the Rev. Waldemar Gies of the Wartburg Christianity Department.

Board And Room Rates To Be Raised

Being Earnest

MISS GWENDOLINE Fairfax (Lonnie Hoffman) and John Worthing (Don Ehlers) drink a spot of tea during the production of "The Importance of Being Earnest." See page 4 for review.

First Symphony Features Lewis

Miss Myrna Lewis, Wartburg Music Department, will be the featured performer in this year's first Wartburg-Community Symphony presentation tomorrow evening in Knights Gym. Starting time is 8 p.m.

Miss Lewis, a full-time string instructor at Wartburg, will be playing the violin in Dmitri Kabalevsky's "Concerto for Violin and Orchestra."

Grad Forms Out

Seniors! Are you planning to get ahead of the end-of-year graduation rush? Have you been dreaming of a white January graduation? If you are, remember, Nov. 24 is the last day to apply for mid-year release papers.

Your local registrar, Miss Mattie Harms, invites you to come in and see the new winter stock of January graduation application forms today.

Regents Also Vote For Another Dormitory Unit

By Don Keene

Plans for a new dormitory unit and an increase in board and room rates are recommendations approved by the Board of Regents at its meeting Thursday in the Faculty Lounge.

Board of Regents members unanimously approved requesting the joint boards of the present American Lutheran Church to grant permission to proceed immediately with plans for the construction of a third unit for the women's dormitory. The joint boards include the Board of Christian Higher Education and the Board of Trustees both of the TLC.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Regents will be given the power to act as soon as the joint boards have passed on this request.

"The resolution requests that we be permitted to borrow 75 per cent of the project cost from the ALC and make the remaining 25 per cent the responsibility of the Development Association," Dr. C. H. Becker, Wartburg president, declared.

Dorm Ready By '61

"Hope is expressed to complete the dormitory unit by the fall of '61," stated Dr. Becker.

Board rates will increase to $350 per year, and room rates will be increased to $200 per year beginning next fall. Board rates have not been raised since 1951, when the cost became $306; however, room rates have gone up more frequently.

Even with these increases, rates still would not be so high as most other schools, according to Dr. Becker.

Tuition will be increased for part-time students and for

Variety Of Issues Meet Board Approval

Wartburg Board of Regents approved the following other details Thursday.

Authorization of Dean J. O. Chellebold to attend the institute for college and university administrators at Harvard University in February of next year.

Resolution to have chapel dedication at the time of commencement. In case the structure is not completed, the dedication will be at Homecoming.

Leave of absence for C. Robert Larson next year to complete graduate work.

Approval of the psychology major.

$1 increase in student publications per year.

Student government fee of 50 cents to be charged. This will be the first time student government has had any money to work with.

Fee increase for student teaching to $6 per semester hour.

Approval of tentative three-year budget.

Approval of national defense loan program.

those taking more than 18 hours in one semester to $18 per semester hour.

Too Much Religion? Let Us Hear From You

A few weeks ago a Trumpet columnist asked it, every-day a student asks it and now the Wartburg faculty and administration asks the question — Is there too much religion on campus?

This week, an informal gathering of students, faculty and administration assembled to hash over the implications of said question.

As our exchange papers indicate, the problem is not unique on our own campus, but is typified by Christian colleges elsewhere in the United States.

This led the group to surmise that the answer might rest in the roots of the present generation of college students.

Discussion of required convocations that are conducted as worship services raised the ire of some individuals in the group.

The investigation of the question is still not complete and is subject to more discussion meetings. There are many pertinent questions that the whole campus must answer.

Can we reach a saturation point as far as campus worship is concerned?

Is the rebellion against religious services in convo or against being required to go to convo — period?

Would the present convo set-up be satisfactory if general quality of speakers was better? (Inferring, of course, that most speakers now leave students dissatisfied.)

Is general campus atmosphere toward Christianity deteriorating?

Can we ever have too much religion — of any quality or form?

If you have any opinions on these questions, pro or con, or any more questions concerning your religious life on campus, write us a letter or put it on paper and drop it in the Student Senate office.

Success, said one old philosopher, can oftentimes lead to disappointment.

Head football coach Norm Johansen and his 1959 Iowa Conference champions will atone.

After an 8-0 mark in the league and an 8-1 mark overall, the locals were in strong contention for a bid to the post-season Mineral Bowl at Excelsior Springs, Mo.

Austin, Tex., College and Emporia College, Kan., got the nods and the Knights were left in the castle.

"Unjust," say some. Well, maybe, since both of the other teams had identical records to Wartburg's. We would rather think of it as a disappointment.

At any rate, hats off to the champs for bringing home the conference gonfalon the second straight year, a feat that has been accomplished only once before in Iowa history.

The string of 15 consecutive loop wins by Johansen, his staff and players certainly knocks the bottom out of one old axiom.

Nice guys don't always finish last.

Student's Prayer: We give thanks for Thanksgiving.

The easiest bit of slang to obey during last week's cold spell was "Keep cool, man."

Four Men Ask, What's Happened To Science Hall?

To the Editor: Dr. Becker announced recently of his plans to recommend immediate construction of two dormitory units.

We would like to ask what happened to the plans to build a Science Hall?

Wouldn't it be better to retard the student growth somewhat for the time being and bring our educational facilities up to the needs of a good educational system?

One has merely to walk through third floor Luther Hall to see that the science departments are laboring on a minimum of space and facilities. What consequence will an added influx of students have upon the already overcrowded conditions?

In the July 1958 Wartburg Bulletin, a seven-year plan was outlined. The sequence stated was Clinton Hall, Library, Chapel - Auditorium, Science Hall, Second Unit of Men's Dorm and Third Unit of Women's Dorm.

Why is the Science Hall being omitted in today's plans? We will grant that dormitory space, especially for girls, is an urgent need. However, we feel that proper facilities for the field of science, of extreme value in today's world, are of utmost importance at the present time.

We believe that an increase in the educational facilities is more vital than an increase in enrollment. After all, must we sacrifice a better Wartburg for a bigger Wartburg?

Home For The Holidays?

"Oh, there's no place like home for the holidays . . ." Remember that song? It becomes popular every year about this time as people begin to think about going home for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The words are a nostalgic reminder to all those away from home, college students included, that during this happy season the only place to be is at home.

You're on your way home right now? Driving, eh? Roads are pretty bad. Got a full load, too.

"Oh, there's no place like home for the holidays, And that's true no matter where you may roam. If you want to be happy in a hundred ways, For the holidays you can't beat home, sweet home!" Nice, sentimental thought, isn't it? Ah, can't wait to get there?

There's another line to the song— "From Atlantic to Pacific. Gee, the traffic is terrific!"

Terrific traffic. That's one way to put it. Here's another — last year 37,000 Americans never made it home. The National Safety Council lists 1,350,000 more that were delayed because of injuries received in motor-vehicle accidents.

You say you're still driving home for the holidays? And still you can't wait to get there? Well, everyone seems to be in a hurry.

"From Atlantic to Pacific, Gee, the traffic is terrific!"

Drive a little faster then. After all, excessive speed killed only 21 out of every 100 persons involved in fatal accidents last year. And the roads aren't that icy.

Take a chance, pass that long string of cars. Remember, the sooner you get home, the sooner you can dig into that turkey!

"From Atlantic to Pacific, Gee, the traffic is terr . . ."

Oh, oh. Hey, watch out for that car! You'll never make it! Hang on-n-n . . .

CRASH . . .

"Yes, there's no place like home for the holidays . . ."

Mid Knight March

By Bob Solete

Greetings and hallucinations from your ever-present friends, the Aristocrats of Alpha. This week the task of composing Bob Solete's epistle has fallen upon our many able and talented hands. So, to you, fellow classmates, we dedicate this nonsensical script, at least while Bob Solete is obsolete.

At the present, we are a bit short-handed because of an insatiable desire amongst our members to sing in as many places as possible. We sing in many different states, including the state of confusion.

If you have attended chapel lately you might have heard KWAR's "state of confusion." In other words, if you wish to hear the 6:15 edition of the news and still not neglect your spiritual life, go to first chapel.

From the looks of things lately, if the Academic Life Committee wishes to conduct a discussion group on "Making Love at Wartburg," we suggest Fuchs Lounge as headquarters. A live demonstration can be seen, performed nightly by perennial inhabitants of the cozy abode.

They say the new auditorium will be completed for graduation, but we seniors expect to graduate before 1964. To Mr. Drape: If you are still looking for bricklayers, there are several mudslingers at North Hall who are available for immediate placement.

After hearing the Fred Waring show last Sunday, Pastor Diers may introduce stereo in his sermons from now on. He wants the students to get both sides of his message.

Judging from the attendance at the football celebration Monday morning, we believe the following announcement is in order: "Wartburg won the Iowa Conference Football Championship."

Semiweekly Mecca Irresistibly Lures Wartburgers

By Darlene Nimtz

Nearly every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m., the Wartburg College faculty and Student Body make their bi-weekly pilgrimage to Knights Gymnasium. This is required of all students approximately seventy-two times a year to please the Dean of Students' Office.

Of course, the purpose of this pilgrimage is to attend convocation, but have you ever been curious concerning this event? Just who is behind the planning and organization, and what is the purpose for holding convocations?

Committee Takes Charge

The Convocations Committee is specifically in charge of supervising these gatherings. This committee is headed by Dr. Clifford Hanson of the Philosophy Department.

Remainder of the committee is composed of senior Wanda Karsten, student representative; Norm Litzner, Student Body president; Dr. Karl Schmidt, head of the Christianity Department; Dr. John Chellevoid, dean of faculty; Dr. Edwin Liemohn, Music Department head; Pastor Herman Diers, college chaplain; and Pres. C. H. Becker, ex officio.

Purpose of the Convocations Committee is to arrange programs within the confines of a prescribed budget.

Budget Limits Convo

"This is a practical limitation, as $900 was set aside for speakers this year," stated Pastor Diers.

Quality speakers may require a remuneration up to $300.

About one-half of the convocations are to be set aside for worship services, and one a month is to be reserved for faculty and Student Body business meetings. The remaining convocations attempt to heighten the student aesthetic and spiritual interests, foster campus community spirit, promote general cultural enlightenment and increase the concern for current affairs — economic, political and social — as stated in the Faculty Handbook.

GOT CONVOCATION TROUBLES?
These are the people to see. Gathered around the familiar lectern are the Convocation Committee Norm Litzner,

Singers Present 'Carousel' Soon

Weighing heavily upon the agenda of activities for Castle Singers is the production of the 1959 musical presentation, Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel," Dec. 6 and 7.

The Singers, under the direction of James Fritschel, new member of the Music Department, are working hard to make their rendition an entertaining and noteworthy event. Included in the performance are not only vocal numbers but also dramatic accompaniments.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. in the Knights Gymnasium.

Make Your Vacation Last . . .

But Don't Make It The Last

Athletic Group Meeting Today

Iowa Conference Athletic Commission is holding its annual fall meeting in Cedar Rapids today.

Attending from Wartburg are conference secretary Dr. Elmer Hertel; Wartburg athletic director, Dr. Ax Bundgaard; Coach Norm Johansen; and Duane Schroeder.

Among business items taken up will be the election of officers, selection of the all-conference football team and a discussion of next year's basketball and football schedules.

Library Receives Book Of 'Hope'

"Hope for the Stricken," a book written by the father of a Wartburg student, has been added to Homuth Memorial Library.

Alfred Thiese, father of sophomore Angeline Thiese, has been completely paralyzed from the neck down since an accident in 1952. According to the author, he wrote the book ". . . to help someone in a similar condition or distressed in some other way."

Reviewing the book, the Wartburg Press says, "The story is of a bitter pilgrimage through long hours of suffering at hospitals and through recovery at home. Intended to give hope to others. . . the deep and earnest sincerity commends this volume. . . ."

Hertel Lectures

Dr. Elmer W. Hertel, Biology Department, spoke recently at Drake University, Des Moines, during Drake's Religious Emphasis Week.

Why a career with Lutheran Brotherhood is like going into business for yourself

Most young men with spirit like a good deal of freedom. If they have energy and confidence, they like to think they can get ahead as fast as their ability warrants.

That's the way we get our best men. Working with Lutheran Brotherhood, a man has all the freedom—and practically none of the risk—of a business of his own.

It is highly satisfying work, too. After thorough training, a Lutheran Brotherhood man is actually a specialized counselor. His specialty is showing fellow Lutherans how they can guarantee monthly income for their wives and children . . . how they can manage to provide sound, comfortable retirement incomes for themselves when they are ready to quit working.

Now, we know the danger we run. We are so thoroughly convinced of the value of insurance counseling that we may tend to over-emphasize the joys of a career in life insurance.

That's why we recommend that you get acquainted with your local Lutheran Brotherhood man. If you are considering a career in life insurance, he can tell you what to expect. Even if you make other plans for your career, be sure to get the benefit of the skill and consideration of a highly trained fellow Lutheran in planning your own life insurance program. You can't lose, and of course there's no obligation, either way!

Knightly Drama On Daily

By Grace Jahn
Act I

The place: The entrance to a medieval castle
The time: When Knighthood was in flower

The characters: A knight and his fair maiden
The action: Knight escorts fair maiden to gateway, bids guards open heavy door, makes graceful bow, holds door and permits fair maiden to precede him into the castle.

Act II

The place: the entrance to Luther Hall, Wartburg College
The time: 1959

The characters: a Knight and a Knightie

The action: ???

The question: What will happen when the two get to the door of Luther Hall? Will the young man gallantly hold the door open for the girl, or will she get it slammed in her face, or will she grab for the door handle before the poor guy has a chance to move?

Answers to these questions will vary.

"The flower of knighthood has certainly wilted on the Wartburg College campus!" commented junior June Marolf.

When asked what he thought about chivalry at Wartburg, head Knight Norm Litzner said, "I think in general it's pretty good."

In seeking a reason for the absence of more chivalry at Wartburg, both Norm and June agreed that it probably stems from the constant striving of women to be equal.

They also agreed that most of the men would do more chivalrous deeds if more were expected of them by the girls. Instead of grabbing for the door handle, the girl should pause for the man to do the door-opening.

"They never wait for you to do anything," explained Norm.

But does the lack of chivalry come from the girl's not expecting more of the man or from the man's lack of good manners?

"It's a vicious circle," June concluded.

Some Wartburg Knights try to be chivalrous. They'll hold a door open for a girl, but before they know it, they're stuck at that door. Why? Because at that moment 50 more girls appear at that door, almost out of nowhere.

Then there's the guy who helped the girl sitting in front of him in church off with her coat. He draped it neatly over the back of her chair, only to discover that she wanted it around her shoulders.

"But there's a difference between the dating situation and a regular school day," said Norm.

Back to the action of Act II. The Knight and Knightie are still standing at the door, each waiting for the other to make the first move.

TRUMPET REVIEWS

'The Importance Of Being Earnest' Bows Out To Critic's Praise Tonight

By Grace Jahn

Love, the eternal subject for playwrights, appears here again tonight in the dress of the 19th century.

Add two cases of mistaken identity; blend into a theater-in-the-round, an ingenious device for comedy that seats the audience on three sides of the action; and you have Wartburg Players' highly enjoyable production of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Play Flits With Wit

Filled with 19th century witticisms, the fast-moving comedy, directed by Vernon Lestrud, Speech Department, soon involves the audience with John Worthing's imaginary brother Earnest and Algernon Moncrieff's imaginary friend Bunbury.

Needless to say, these deceptions soon involve them in difficulties which nearly end in the catastrophic event of both losing their fiancées.

Ehlers Veteran

Don Ehlers, who, although only a sophomore, can be termed a veteran of the Wartburg stage, turns in what is probably the outstanding performance.

In the lead role of John Worthing, his acting gives the comic lines added impetus. The high light of the play comes at the end of the second act with Worthing's expression of frustration at Moncrieff's eating his muffins and drinking his tea.

Sophomore Allen Bell, also not a newcomer to Wartburg audiences, played a convincing Algernon Moncrieff. As Worthing's erstwhile friend and brother, he keeps the audience waiting for his entrances.

Hoffman Acts Too

Lonnie Hoffman, another sophomore with experience, portrays the Hon. Gwendoline Fairfax, the object of Worthing's affection and a typical 19th century woman who is only straightforward and frank behind her mother's back.

Freshman Louise Loots, in her first appearance, gives charm to the role of Cecily Cardew, Worthing's ward. Her outspoken manner and naivete when Moncrieff is proposing is entirely convincing. Her actions and speech while writing in her diary and serving tea are those of a confident comedienne.

In the part of Lady Bracknell, Gwendoline's mother, freshman Lavonne Kimpling, another newcomer, creditably plays the part of the socialite matron, interested only in fashion and family.

Prism Has Past

Delightful in her character portrayal, senior Delores Garrett as Miss Prism, the governess with a past, helps to give the play its "aura of believability." Miss Prism's part is blessed with some of the play's funniest lines, such as "A married man is never attractive, except to his wife."

Junior Robert Bipes, as the Rev. Canon Chasuble, is the again typical 19th century clergyman. The man-of-the-collar is played with a gleam in his eye.

Craig Sathoff, junior, as Merriman, butler to Worthing, and Charles Knorr, freshman, as Lane, butler to Moncrieff, carry their roles so well that if omitted, they would be missed. A drawing-room comedy isn't complete without a butler, and this one with two is hilarious.

Who Is Earnest?

And where does Earnest come in? He has quite a prominent role, since both Cecily and Gwendoline are in love with him and engaged to him at the same time. Actually, he doesn't exist because Worthing is engaged to Gwendoline, but she thinks he's Earnest, while Cecily thinks Moncrieff is Earnest too. However, neither one is earnest except in his affections.

But who can explain it better than the players themselves? Curtain is at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater tonight.

APG Initiates 4

Four students were recently initiated into the Beta Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Entering the honorary organization were seniors Don Bathgate, Rex Grove and Roger Schneider and junior Grace Jahn. The initiation ceremony and supper were held at the home of the group's adviser, Mrs. Margaret Garland.

Students Step Into Teachers' Shoes As Practice Teaching Swings In Action

By Marjorie Johnson

Although most of Wartburg's Student Body are concerned with their own education, many students are already trying the other side of the desk by doing student teaching.

Seniors in secondary education are teaching in various neighboring high schools, with Dr. Herbert Max, head of the Education Department, in charge.

In Janesville are Carl Bliesener, teaching chemistry; Norm Carl, business education; Frances Westendorf, English; and Mary Wilke, music. Those in the high school at Denver are Don Bathgate, business; Mel Schlichting, math; Larry Niemann, general science; and Carolyn Schardt, music.

Joens At Shell Rock

Harley Joens is student teaching in English at Shell Rock High School. In the Waverly High School are Larry Raper, Charles Nichol and Joyce Speicher, all teaching physical education; Rex Grove, Marlys Madsen and Mary Zellmer, American literature; and Mary Jo Logan Kaiser, English literature.

Also in Waverly, Duane Childs and Jane Marten are teaching biology; Larry Nieman, algebra; Douglas Schuldt, bookkeeping; Russell Muhlenhaupt, general science; Virginia Albers and JoAnn Schmidt, home economics; Delbert Gilbert, Jerry Ford and Gretchen Utke, world history; Keo Miller and Grace Pumfrey, vocal music.

One At St. Paul's

At St. Paul's Mary Zellmer is teaching German. Student teachers in the Waverly Junior High School include Roger Schneider and Delores Garrett, English; and Roger Halverson and Marlys Madsen, science.

Under the supervision of Miss Stella M. Austerud, in charge of elementary teaching, are 17 students trying their hands at teaching in elementary schools.

Two Teach At Carey

At the Carey School are Beverly Schoeman teaching second grade and Sharon Kronberg teaching fourth. At the Irving School are Karen Koopman, Karen Mueller, Mary Jean Plueger and Marjorie Miller teaching fifth grade and Charlene Linderwell teaching sixth.

At Lincoln Mary Ann Hoppel is teaching first grade; Gertraud Templin, second; and Dorothy Hansen, third. At St. Paul's are Verlene Barth Senne, first; Marlyce Pohlman, third; Edna Busch, fourth; and Mary Jo Klaassen, sixth.

Teaching at West Cedar are Sandra Marsh, first grade; Walis Winter, second; and Sally Pleggenkuhle, fourth.

REVERSING POSITIONS, Wartburg students have been, are and will be practice teaching in area schools. Marlyce Pohlman, Roger Schneider and Bev Schoeman put their education to use in the field of education.

Hang on to your money, people. Right after Thanksgiving Phebes will be selling Christmas cards. The cards will be sold at a nominal fee with hopes of making a small fortune.

Lutheran Student Association will meet tomorrow, Nov. 22, in the Clinton Hall Lounge at 8 p.m. The speaker will be the Rev. Walter Tillmanns, whose subject will be "The Christian Student Action in German Universities." Everyone (yes, even you) is invited.

Passavant Club met last Wednesday in Clinton Hall Lounge. Two caseworkers were present. One spoke on the role of a social caseworker in a treatment center, and the other spoke on graduate school.

Well, hop to it, girls. Dec. 4 is the big day to drag some hapless Knight to the Christmas Dance. If he puts up a fight, tell him it's semi-formal and won't cost him a cent.

Oh yes, speaking of cost, it's only two dollars, and I guess you know who pays. We have Pi Sigma to thank for this golden opportunity.

We can also thank Pi Sigma for the decorations in the cafeteria during the Thanksgiving season.

Here's another good reason for coming back to school after Thanksgiving. (No extra charge for that last bit of sarcasm.) Castle Singers are putting on their production of "Carousel" Dec. 6 and 7. It should be quite a performance.

Just in case no one has said it to you yet, "Happy Thanksgiving."

Dubuque Sod-Trotters Nab IC Meet

Knights Second In 1st Running

Wartburg hosted the first Iowa Conference Cross-Country meet here yesterday and Dubuque literally ran away with all honors.

The three mile jaunt was held on the Waverly Golf Course. Peter Boyd of the University of Dubuque crossed the finish line first with a time of 15 minutes and 30.5 seconds.

Dubuque had six runners entered and they all finished among the first seven. The Spartans ended up with a score of 15 with Wartburg second with 59, Simpson third with 74 and Parsons last with 77 points.

Marv Corporan, who finished in the eighth position, was the Knights first runner to cross the finish line. He was immediately followed by Wartburg's Don Dietzler.

Luther College, Decorah, and Central, Pella, were also scheduled to run but neither team showed. Twenty-five runners entered in the competition from the four schools.

ON YOUR MARK, ready, go! Twenty-five cross country runners strain at the starting line in yesterday's conference meet here. Dubuque won the tourney in freezing temperature.

WARTBURG HAS SPORTY SCIENTIST

Hertel Snares First Championships, Guides School, Conference Athletics

In 1936 as the Wartburg cheerleaders and fans shouted "Heil Hertel," the Knights tied for the Tri-State football championship and finished the 1935-36 basketball season in another championship draw.

The "Hertelmen," as the teams were known around campus, ended the year with the first championships in the history of the college, all under the coaching of Elmer W. Hertel, head of the Biology Department.

Hertel First Head

Since Wartburg's admittance into the Iowa Conference in December 1936, "Doc" Hertel, as he is familiarly known, has served as president of the conference and since 1943 as its secretary.

Besides keeping the records concerning wins, losses and meetings of the conference, Hertel, an active golfer, is currently chairman of Wartburg's committee on athletics.

As professor of biology, he is state secretary for the Board of Examiners in the Basic Sciences. Appointment by the Iowa governor is necessary for this position. Hertel has served on the board for eight years. He also was president of the Iowa Academy of Science during 1953.

Coach Wins Letters

Graduated from Nebraska State Teachers College in Peru, Neb., Hertel earned four letters as an outstanding football man. He received his M.A. from Denver University, Denver, Colo., and his Ph.D. from the University of Nebraska, Lincoln.

Throughout his career at Wartburg, Hertel has frequently been adviser of the W-Club, Wartburg lettermen's group. At one time he was head of all sports activities as Wartburg's single coach as well as being head of Grossmann Hall. Among his favorite athletes he remembers coaching "Earnie" Oppermann, star Wartburg basketball player in 1937.

Fortress Pays Tribute

Stated the 1936 Fortress: "Wartburg's rise in athletics is due to the efficient and successful coaching of Elmer W. Hertel. . .since the advent of the Hertel coaching era, athletics at Wartburg have taken great strides forward. And since Coach Hertel (then athletic director and chairman of the Athletics Council) is but five years in the coaching profession, we feel he has not yet reached the peak of his coaching career."

Twenty-three years later Hertel is still hailed as he is plugging for the Knights in a different capacity.

Responsible for the naming of the "Knights," Dr. Hertel came to Wartburg at Clinton in 1934 and stayed to see the Knights move to Waverly and rise and fall in sports. Now in his 25th year at Wartburg, though not actively coaching, Doc Hertel watched the Knights achieve the ranks of 1958-'59 basketball champions and '58 and '59 football champions of the Iowa Conference.

ACTIVE IN WARTBURG SPORTS for 25 years, Dr. Elmer Hertel gazes into the Knights' athletic trophy case, which is rapidly being swelled to capacity. "Doc" was president of the Iowa Conference in 1943-'44 and since that time has been league secretary.

Picking Up Splinters

By Chuck Jepsen

As Coach Norman Johansen's Iowa Conference football champs sit back and enjoy the glory they deserve, another championship team is grueling at the task of preparing for the defense of its title.

Coach Ax Bundgaard's basketball squad is drilling daily in an attempt to duplicate the football team's honor of winning two successive titles.

All indications seem to point to a tough season because of the general improvement of the conference teams.

The Knights, who last year compiled a 14-2 loop mark and 21-5 over all, will be led this season by the two scorers who helped bring about that record. They are senior center John Tuecke and junior guard Dave Jensen. Darwin Oehlerich, sophomore guard, is also being counted on to supply scoring punch.

Wartburg's toughest opposition appears to come from Luther, which finished in the runnerup position in last year's conference standings. The Norse, who ended with a 12-4 conference mark, return a total of 14 members of last year's traveling squad, including four starters. Among these four are the scoring aces, guard Armin Pipho and forward Clay Lyon.

Buena Vista appears to have a strong contender headed by six lettermen. BV finished sixth last year after having been picked for last, and appears certain to climb higher in this year's standings. Jim Ahrens, the Beavers' leading scorer last year as a freshman, and senior Don Nettleton head the list of returning veterans.

Iowa Wesleyan will be hurt by the absence of last year's conference scoring leader, Andy Henderson, who decided not to return to Mt. Pleasant this year. The Tigers, under new mentor Jack Darland, boast four lettermen, including Jim Green, a stand-out last year as a frosh.

Simpson finished strong last season and must be rated as a contender for the title.

Dubuque also possesses strong material but may be somewhat hampered by the presence of a new coach.

Central will be led by forward John Carle, third leading scorer in the conference last season.

Parsons and Upper Iowa, at the bottom of last year's standings, appear to be strengthened and may be classified as dark horses.

The way things look now, an exciting winter of basketball is in store for everyone.

The Knights kick off the season with a non-conference encounter here Dec. 1 with La Crosse State of La Crosse, Wis.

Conference action begins on Dec. 12 when Iowa Wesleyan visits Knights Gymnasium.

This is the time when everyone makes his pre-season predictions. I'll join the bandwagon and give my forecast of the final Iowa Conference standings.

Ho Hum! Another Iowa Conference Championship

Knights Capture Second Straight Football Trophy

By Tom Kuckkahn
Wartburg College Knights won their second consecutive Iowa Conference football championship last Saturday when they defeated Simpson College 38-6.

The victory was number eight for the Jomen in conference play and gave them a perfect 8-0 conference record. The win was also Wartburg's 15th straight league victory.

Knights opened their season against Luther Sept. 19 at Decorah under the lights. The experts had prophesied that the winner of this game would go on to win the conference championship.

A close ball game was expected, but Wartburg surprised everyone by defeating the Norsemen 26-0. The Knights' speedy backfield and hard-charging line were too much for Luther. Niemann Outstanding

Bob Niemann was the outstanding lineman this night, as he recovered three Luther fumbles, all of which were converted into TD's.

The following Saturday the Knights opened their home schedule in the friendly confines of Schield Stadium. Parsons College was the victim this time.

Battle for the Victory Bell was next, and it was still in the hands of the Knights at the conclusion of the game. Yes, the Knights downed Upper Iowa University 41-6 to spoil "Doc Dorman Day."

Ron Krueger was chosen Lineman of the Week for his outstanding play in this game. This day was also an unforgettable one for quarterback Ott, as he threw for four TD passes and gained his first mile of yardage.

Knights Come Home

Homecoming was next on the agenda. The Knights took the theme "Forever Forward" to heart and trounced Buena Vista 19-6. BV had been undefeated, which made the victory an absolute necessity.

Following this game, Wartburg was rated 15th in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics football ratings. Larry Collmann was voted Lineman of the Week because of his outstanding play as center and linebacker.

Exactly two years ago at that time, mid-season, Wartburg had lost its 13th straight game. Now the Knights were shooting for their 13th straight win. Illinois Normal was the opponent, worthy opponent indeed, for it romped over the Knights in the non-conference game, 30-6.

The following Saturday everyone was singing "Happy days are here again," for the Knights, returning to conference action, had routed Iowa Wesleyan 27-15 at Mt. Pleasant. The Jomen's alert line can be given more than its usual amount of credit for this victory. A well-balanced offense and a staunch defense could not be denied.

Knights' next game was at home against a fired-up Dubuque squad. It was in this game that Wartburg's bench was given its first real test. It came through with flying colors as the Knights pushed Dubuque all over the field while they marched to 33-7 triumph.

Next, the Knights trekked to Pella to battle the Dutchmen of Central College. Typical cold, wet Iowa weather was again the rule, but the Knights didn't let it bother them as they assured themselves of at least a share of the title by squeezing by the Dutchmen 18-12.

Raper rampaged for 205

yards as he surpassed the mile mark in yards gained.

Knights wound up their season against Simpson at home with a 38-6 victory. Junkman played the best game of his career as he gained 98 yards in 15 carries. Raper gained 125 in 19 carries.

Much credit has been given to the players, but their accomplishments could not have been attained without their top-notch coaches, Norm Johansen, Wilmot Fruehling and Wendy Liemohn.

Volleyball Moves Into IM Spotlight

Intramural volleyball action pushed football into obscurity for the year as action produced some fierce competition last week.

The married men had to battle all the way Thursday to squeeze out a 29-28 win over winless Clinton III and stay undefeated. Grossmann I and Basement kept pace by beating Alpha 27-23. Cotta House also has a 3-0 record, winning by forfeit over North Hall on Thursday night.

Ketha fell to Grossmann II 27-23, and Grossmann III beat Clinton II 26-12 in other games. Wayne Dreier, volleyball chairman, said that the Ketha-

Alpha team indicated on the schedule has split into two teams, since each has enough players. This increases the size of the league to 10 teams. Alpha will play the team that is not regularly scheduled at 9 each night, making five games a night instead of four.

Trumpet's final Lineman of the Week choice goes to Don Sowers, sophomore from Sumner, by a vote of the panel.

Don received three of the five possible votes cast. He was selected for his outstanding play on defense in last Saturday's 38-6 win over Simpson.

The other two votes were cast for Ron Krueger, senior from Waupun, Wis., and Larry Collman, junior from Manson.

My True Story

... As Told To A Trumpet Reporter

You Don't Need Gun; But Be Ready To Run

By Ima Stop Sign
I am a failure.
Nobody stopped for me and rarely did anyone slow down enough to read my weathered letters.

You see, my residence was in the country. I was supposed to halt cars at the north intersection of a crossroads. I had no brothers or sisters to the west or east of me to help me out.

My cousins, the red lights at city intersections, are much more effective, I am told. They usually have policemen nearby to help them, though. I had an inferiority complex.

When winter came, the snow piled up around my waist. In summer the sun beat down on my bald head. I remained in my spot, year after year, wielding about as much authority as an empty fire hydrant.

Sometimes I think I should have gone into advertising.

Well, anyway, it was bright and clear today. I thought I'll wave real friendly-like to the passing motorists today. Sorta got them in the mood for Thanksgiving tomorrow.

Aha, here came a car from the north. Looked like old Joe Slow. Sure enough, and he was taking five of his grandchildren out to the farm for the holidays.

I got ready to beckon to him. Old Joe didn't drive very fast.

year, a lot to be thankful for. Yowwee, here came an auto from the west, and was it moving! Couldn't see who it was at first. . . . . That car east. Mighty fine stand this Hadn't applied his brakes here in years, though. That's his cornfield across the road to the buzzed through here occasionally. It was Sam Haste. Home from college for the vacation, no doubt.

Kid could handle the wheel pretty good. Drove like a bat out of —; well, he was coming mighty fast.

I could tell it was going to be a mighty close race. If only I had a brother to wave to Sam from the west.

They were getting closer. closer. If only I could have jumped out in front of Joe, I would have. If I could have screamed, I would have.

There Sam went by. "Joe, you blasted idiot, STOP!" I wanted to yell. The Lord help them all. . . . .

Crunched I was, Mr. Trumpet man, my back broken by the ricocheting car of Sam Haste. My face was buried in the mud. and all I could hear was the sickening cry of death—five of them in all — Sam Haste and four of Joe's grandchildren.

The state troopers arrived eventually. I couldn't tell them that Joe didn't obey me. I couldn't tell them that Sam was exceeding the speed limit.

I'm helpless. My useful uselessness is over, anyhow. Oh, I can be replaced. Probably take the Highway Department about an hour. What about the human lives, though?

I am a failure.
I should have gone into advertising.

Wartburg Campus Chest Begins Dec. 1, Ends Dec. 4, Says Chairman Freimark

Monday, Dec. 1, will mark the launching of the 1959 Wartburg Campus Chest Drive, which will continue through Friday, Dec. 4. So says Ron Freimark, chairman of the Campus Chest Committee.

The campaign will take the form of personal solicitations insofar as is possible. Off-campus students as well as members of the faculty will be contacted by personal letters from the Campus Chest Committee.

Funds Go Own Ways

Proceeds from the drive will be divided among seven designated charities. A specified amount will be set aside for the Wartburg Student Memorial Fund, and the remainder will be distributed as follows:

Waverly Children's Home will receive 20 per cent; CARE, 20 per cent; L S Action, 20 per cent; Mental Health, 15 per cent; Cancer Fund, 15 per cent; and World University Service, 10 per cent.

On Monday, Nov. 30, the Campus Chest Committee and solicitors will gather in the small dining room of the cafeteria for a kickoff dinner. Its purpose is to add a last-minute stimulus and zeal to the efforts of the Wartburg students to aid their less fortunate fellowmen, according to Freimark.

'Mister Roberts' Helps

The funds collected at the last campus movie, "Mister Roberts," will help make the highest hopes of the committee a reality, namely, that the 1959 Drive will be the most successful ever conducted on the Wartburg campus.

In answer to the query "How much should I give?" the drive has this slogan: GIVE AS GOD HAS GIVEN YOU.

Among Western Hemisphere cities with the largest per capita enjoyment of Coca-Cola are, interestingly enough, sunny New Orleans and chilly Montreal. When we say, "Thirst Knows No Season," we've said a cheerful mouthful.

So don't take any lame excuses about its not being hot enough for Coca-Cola. Forget the temperature and drink up!
